

Fourth AMC Symposium Contact and language change

PROGRAMME

and RESTAURANT and PUB GUIDE

2nd – 4th December 2024

University of Edinburgh

With support from the Linguistics Association of Great Britain and Edinburgh University Press

Welcome to the Third AMC Symposium

This booklet contains (i) details about the room that we'll be using, and some further information which may be useful to you (on this page), (ii) the conference programme (on pages 2-4), and (iii) listings and maps to help you find somewhere to eat and drink (page 5 onwards). There will be biscuits during the coffee breaks, and nibbles at the wine reception, but we will not be providing food during the midday breaks, so you'll need to fend for yourselves then. There are lots and lots of places to buy food nearby, and we mention several that are specifically recommended for midday on page 8.

Conference sessions and registration

All the conference sessions will take place in the Edinburgh Futures Institute building at the University of Edinburgh. Everything is on the ground floor of the building. The talks are all in Lecture Theatre 2.35, which is a big room on the ground floor – it's right next to be main entrance so you should see it as soon as you enter the building (there will be signs). The coffee will be just outside this room. and the poster session is next to where the coffee will be. Registration will take place just outside LT2.35, too. The registration desk will be staffed on Monday morning (9.00-11.00) and at a few other points, too. If you need to register outside of those times, or have any questions, just come to the venue and find an organiser.

A zoomable map showing the Edinburgh Futures Institute (EFI) is here: https://www.ed.ac.uk/maps/maps?building=0227

Here's more information about how to find the venue:

Food and drink

There are lots of opportunities to find somewhere to eat around the university: sandwich shops, restaurants and supermarkets. See the maps at the end of this programme.

- The pub called 'Doctors' has been nominated as the conference pub it's very close to the conference venue, it should be about big enough and it has some reasonable beer; if you want somewhere to gather after the presentations, it's as good a place as any; it's pub A on the map on page 11, this is its website link: https://www.belhavenpubs.co.uk/pubs/midlothian/doctors/
- The restaurant for the meal on Tuesday evening ('Namaste Kathmandu') is close to the conference venue and even closer to Doctor's pub. It's number 7 on the map on page 9; this is its website: https://namastektm.co.uk/

NB: Smoking/vaping inside is illegal in Scotland, including in pubs, but it's fine to go outside to smoke (away from a pub's door).

Shops

There are lots of shops (including supermarkets which sell cheap sandwiches) on Nicolson Street, which is about 3 minutes' walk from the conference. You can find it on the maps at the end of this booklet.

ATMs and money

Payment for small amounts is most commonly done using contactless card payments in the UK now, but you can still use cash in most places (but not absolutely everywhere – in small shops it's worth asking if they accept cash). Some of the student cafes run by the university are card-only. A cash machine is available outside the Potterrow Students' Association building, just a couple minutes walk from the conference venue. There are several others on Nicolson Street and, of course, lots in central Edinburgh. You should be able to use most (probably all) cards, including non-UK ones, in these machines (and to pay using contactless payment). Don't be surprised if you get a range of notes in your change (or from various ATMs). There are at least four types of pound notes circulating in Scotland – three from Scottish banks (the Bank of Scotland, The Royal Bank of Scotland and the Clydesdale Bank) and English notes are accepted too. Northern Irish notes are also accepted in Scotland (but you may have problems using Scottish or Northern Irish notes in benighted parts of England or elsewhere).

Internet access

If your own institution is part of the eduroam network, you should be able to use Edinburgh's wifi system. If you don't have access through eduroam, ask an organiser about getting a log-in.

RESTAURANT and EATING GUIDE

There is a vast number of restaurants and eating opportunities in Edinburgh, to suit all tastes. The following are a few that are either close to the University, or particularly recommendable. All of them are marked on the following map. It's normal to leave a tip of around 10% at end of meal at a restaurant if you were satisfied by the meal.

For those seeking the cheapest possible food, there are several supermarkets on Nicolson Street (which is very close to the University, and is shown in yellow on the map on page 8).

- Tesco's is open late and has most basic and 'quality' goods.
- Lidl is a 'bargain' supermarket with the cheapest prices.
- Sainsbury's is another good supermarket (another location is on Quartermile, west of George Square)

There are lots of sandwich and similar take-away places open during the day

- the Students Association has a cheap shop selling lots of sandwiches inside the Potterrow building.

MAP SHOWING RESTAURANTS and CAFES

The symposium will be held in the Edinburgh Future Institute marked as dinks reception on Monday night is on the seventh floor of the Dugald Stewart Building, marked DSB on the map. Number 7 is Namaste Kathmandu, where the conference dinner will be.

PUBS and BARS

Most of you will know this, but for those that don't: the pub etiquette in Scotland is that you should go to the bar to buy drinks – staff will not take orders at tables in any normal pub. Newer 'trendy' bars and cafés do take orders at tables, however. It is not normal to tip in pubs (that is, where you order yourself at the bar), but it's quite normal to leave a tip at a café.

Beer is ordered in either pints or half-pints. Wine is available in most pubs and bars, as are a range of whiskies.

Pubs are indicated on the map at the end of the booklet by the letters given to them in this list.

A = Doctors
The conference pub.

\mathbf{B} = The Bow Bar

Excellent small pub with good choice of real ales and whiskies.

C = Pear Tree

Very close to the university. If the weather's nice, you can sit outside. But it won't be. Popular with students.

D = Jolly Judge

Another smallish pub in a close off the Lawnmarket (part of the Royal Mile).

E = Greyfriars Bobby's Bar

It's got some history and it's nearby, relatively big, and not bad. Can be busy with tourists.

F = The Albanach

A quite touristy pub, but it has lots of whiskies. Also serves food.

G = Whistlebinkies

A big, subterranean place, open late, normally with some live music.

H = Sandy Bells

Very near and very traditional, with live Scottish music.

- there are several other pubs on the Royal Mile, mostly full of tourists
- there are lots of pubs in the Grassmarket, mostly full of stag parties and people getting very drunk
- there are lots of pubs on Rose Street, a main pub hub
- there are lots of fancy bars on George Street

MAP SHOWING PUBS

George Square (where the symposium will be held) is the rectangular gardens towards the bottom of the map. We will be in 50 George Square, on the eastern side of the gardens.
